THE electric light in Hongkong has up to the present been a decided success. With th exception of a few days shortly after its installation the light has burned steadily and lat proxime. has effected a remarkable improvement in been introduced. Whether it will be able to maintain its character during the wet season remains to be seen, but so far the public has good reason to be satisfied with the arrangecomber last. If the Company, when it commences to supply private consumers, is as has hitherto been in regard to public light. land on the 8th instant and is due here on the ing, its service will no doubt be largely avail- the 31st proximo. ed of. The Gas Company, however, if report speaks truly, is prepared to meet the competition -not, as might be expected, by improving who was bitten on the 24th December last. On the quality of its own illuminant or by reducing the price, but by the masterly policy day in great agony. of doing nothing. It is said that when the Electric Company was about to commence were to allow things to continue as they were, that the Gas Companies at home had not suffered from the competition of the electric light, and that the directors had no doubt the same would be the case here. Whether this view will be justified by the result time alone can prove, but from the latest returns of the authorised gas undertakings in the United Kingdom there seeins to be some ground for the confidence expressed. The total amount of capital authorised was £76,593,724, and the amount paid-up and borrowed £59,877,537, being an increase over the previous year of £761,980 in the amount of capital authorised, and £805,170 in the amount paid-up, the increase in re venue being £494,099, against -which, however, there was an increased expenditure of £785,012. The increase in the amount of gas sold was 3,229,306,009 cubic feet, 4611 miles of additional gas mains had been laid, the number of consumers had increased by 51,159, and 12,768 had been added to the number of public lamps lighted. Notwithstanding that the expenditure showed a larger increase than the revenue, the average dividend paid by the Companies on their original capital was slightly in excess of that paid in the previous year, being £8 11s. for Singapore by the French mail of the 8th 01d., as against £8 10s, 111d. per cent.

From the above figures it will be seen that electric lighting does not appear as yet to have had any perceptible effect upon the progress of the gas industry. Perhaps one reason why gas holds its own so well in [380 England may be found in the system testing, under which the Companies are Consular arrangements at Shanghai will, it is WINES AND SPIRITS compelled to maintain the quality of the article at a fair standard. In spring he should be able to cast in such heavy damages, the Company has decided to transform itself from an English into a Siamese concern. The only inference from the Chairman's speech at the meeting at which this decision was arrived at is that the Company believes that under its new constitution it will be better able to evade justice in any future suits that may be brought against it. The motive is not a credifable one, and if the idea that justice is less impartial under Siamese law than un-

In the Company which has thus decided to place itself beyond English law in consequence of an adverse decision in an English Court, 976 of the shares are owned by British subjects, 944 by Siamese, 639 by Danes, 500 by Swiss, and 144 by persons of other nationalities.

THE DOCK COMPANY'S BONUS TO

CONTRIBUTORS OF BUSINESS. TO THE EDITOR OF THE "DAILY PRESS." SIE, -The appropriation by the directors of the Hongkong and Whampos Dock Co., Ld., of $10,000 for contributing shareholders has eausod considerable disension and comment during the past few days. It is generally understood and has been publicly stated on several rectors themselves are practically the contributing shareholders, inasmuch as the firms they represent in their capacities of agents or general managers of local shipping companies pay the bills of the vessels using the docks. As agents or general managers they receive this return or discount on bills paid to the Dock Company, in trust for the actual contributors of business, the owners of the vissels and the shareholders whose interests they are paid to represent and protect. To retain this money for their own uses would be palpable dishousety, and it is a lamentable illustration of the state of commercial morality in this enlowy that such a supposition could even be entertained by shareholders, much less believed by them. That the belief, however, is general that agents and general managers retain this payment for their own uses is amply proved by the generally expressed opinion that the directors in tuning weight for inphes. One mile and a $10,000 to contributing shareholders have voted themselves this amount. Looking at this matter of contributing shareholders in the most favourable light, it is at heat a bribe the necessity for which is not now apparent. That it is a blotch on an otherwise irreproschable and model report must be admitted: that it has the appearance of being a job, and is the cause of probably unjust and mistaken inferences must also be admit ed; and altogether I feel sure the directors themselves on counideration will remove this blotch from the fair mage of their report. Looking at the names on our directorate the paltry sum is bardly worth their acceptance, much less to be the cause of subjecting them to unfair criticism

In the reports of our local shipping companies I have looked in vain for a note of these returns and discounts, and the system adopted by general managers of suppressing all such information from shareholders. Like everything else, has its disadvantages; ps: well as its advantages. It s asking too much of human nature to as! it to believe that where so much effort to hide is made, as shown by their published accounts, there really is at bottom nothing that requires to be concealed. They cannot fairly complain when shareholders draw their own inferences. At the approaching general meeting of one of our local shipping companies an opportunity gratitude for the great services which you have ren. will be given, which will doubtless be giadly dered to this young association and to the profession | necepted by the general managers, of explaining generally. We also sak you to regard it as a mark to their shareholders what really becomes of all of our esteem and the pride we feel at having you as these discounts and returns, aggregating a con-The K.ECHONG Cur, presented; for China manly and unselfish stand which you have taken in their appearance as an item in the accounts. chant Service has been attended with no insigniff. In the House of Commons last night a debate took place on a motion by Mr. Marjoribanks for an inquiry into the reported defects in the magazine rifle. Mr. Stanhope said that the rifle was the best obtainable, and he hoped shortly to furnish smokeless powder for it. The motion on a division was rejected.

LONDON, 4th February, The Times discussing the debate in the House of Commons last night on the motion of Mr. Marjoribanks denounces the spathy of the House of Commons in view of the profound importance of the magazine rifle question, and condemns Mr. Stanhope's official optimism.

THE MANCHESTER SHIP CANAL. London, 28th January. A general meeting of the Manchester Ship Oanal Company was held in Manchester, at which the chairman announced that owing to the bad weather injuring the works and to disagreements with contractors the report was less favourable than was expected; and it would be necessary to raise additional capital of seventeen hundred thousand sterling. MORE SHIPPING DIFFICULTIES AT CARDIEF LONDON. 5th February. A great struggele between the Federated Unions and the Shipping Federation has begun at Cardiff. The former are blocking all the latter's vessels, and also stopping work at the MR. PARNELL AND HIS PARTY. London, 2nd February.

Mr. Parnell has arrived at Ennis, where he was received by a dense multitude of people, who gave him an enthusiastic welcome with bands playing and hanners flying. Mr. Parnell in an address to a meeting held in the square said that it would transpire in a few days that a permanent settlement assuring future legislative freedom to Ireland had been schieved. LONDON, 3rd February, .

It is rumoured that a compromise has been arrived at by the Paraellites whereby Mr. Justin McCarthy or Mr. Dillon will take the lead of the Irish party in the House of Commons, and Mr. Parnell will go to America with Mr.
